

Youth Justice Services

Support for youth who get into trouble with the law

Support for individuals between the ages of 12 and 17 who get into trouble with the law. This support can be provided during weekends, evenings, free time, and unstructured family time.

We assist with:

- Preparing for and returning home following custody
- Living at home under conditions
- Attending school or work
- Family tension and conflict
- Developing positive peer relations and coping with peer pressure
- Managing independent or semi-independent living
- Assisting youth in receiving specific treatment (e.g. drug and alcohol treatment)

Community Integration and Support

We work with the youth in their community on clearly defined goals set by the probation officer, the youth, and their family and other involved service providers. Each goal includes a plan for achievement and a review mechanism.

All service is provided on a fee-for-service basis.

Bartimaeus Behaviour Specialists

- Hold a university degree or college diploma
- Have a minimum of five years experience in the social services field
- Have excellent interpersonal skills
- Have current First Aid and CPR training
- Are covered by professional liability insurance
- Have the ongoing supervision of the Director/Coordinator of Services
- Have undergone vulnerable sector and criminal background checks

We match our Behaviour Specialists' knowledge, abilities and expertise with each individual's needs. We believe that a positive fit between the individual and our Behaviour Specialist is vital for service effectiveness.

Contact us

Ontario 1 866 226-2565

Quebec 1 514 991-7432

Maritimes 1 902 897-9865

To contact a Service Coordinator in your area, visit www.bartimaeus.com.